Relationships and Health Policy (including sex education)

‘Pleasant Street Primary School pledges itself to be a place where uniqueness is celebrated and all individuals will find safety and respect for themselves, their families and their way of life.’ (Mission Statement)

At Pleasant Street Primary we actively strive to enable our children to become confident, caring and independent members of society, who take pride in their unique identity, as well as their family, culture, beliefs and heritage. A quality Relationships and RSE curriculum is just one way in which we fulfil this mission. This Policy has been written, taking into account the National Curriculum 2014, Keeping Children Safe in Education 2021 and the Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education Statutory guidance DfE 2019.

This Policy covers the teaching of Relationships, Health and Sex Education. You may also hear it referred to as Relationships and Health Education but as we wish to be clear about all aspects of this curriculum we have decided to call it Relationships and Health (including sex) Education.

This policy forms part of our wider approach which includes:

- Discrete Curriculum time, topics taught each half term. (Appendix 1)
- Half termly diversity days based around a number of topics including Black History month, refugee week, anti-bullying and difference. (Appendix 2/Appendix 3)
- P4C lessons – which incorporate different themes relating to the PSHE curriculum. (Appendix 2)
- Assemblies, class assemblies and class discussions including collective worship.
- Circle time - when issues arise, ensuring time is made within the curriculum to meet the needs of the children.
- Mental Health and Wellbeing of children, staff and parents.
- British Values.
- Extra-curricular activities e.g. after school clubs, class visits and visiting speakers including; NSPCC, Community Police, People of Faith as well as charitable events and fundraising activities.

Our taught Relationships education curriculum is one of many ways children at Pleasant Street learn about themselves, others and the wider school community. Relationships education forms part of our PSHE curriculum and is taught through EYFS, KS1 and KS2.

During EYFS pupils will begin building the foundations of understanding who they are and how relationships work. They will have opportunities to explain how they feel and how to get on with others. They will also begin to explore the importance of staying healthy and keeping clean.

The core themes are currently delivered using the 1Decision Programme of study in Key Stages One and Two, in addition to other school resources. An overview of the curriculum can be found in Appendix 1. This programme also provides the opportunity for children to develop and exercise their own decision-making skills, in the context of personal, social and moral dilemmas. Parents and carers can find out more and access some of the resources for home use by following the link below. <https://www.1decision.co.uk/resources/parent-carer-zone>

The 1 Decision scheme covers all the statutory requirements of:

- Relationships Education - teaches children the skills they will need throughout life in order to build happy, healthy and safe relationships. It aims to help them develop acceptance of other people, and to understand the importance of respect and kindness.
- Health Education - covers the way our physical and mental wellbeing are interconnected.
- Sex Education – Naming parts of the body, puberty and human reproduction are delivered through the science curriculum, which builds understanding from Year One onwards. Not every year group will study topics related to conception and reproduction.

Details of Curriculum Content

In KS1 pupils will have the opportunity to gain the knowledge and skills necessary to build and maintain healthy relationships. They will consider their feelings, the effect of their behaviour on other people and will be able to respect differences between people. They will learn about online safety and how to stay safe at home and outside. They will learn the basic rules and skills to help them to keep healthy and be aware of the importance of good personal hygiene. They will also look at being a member of our community, thinking about how to help others and how to be a responsible citizen.

In KS2 pupils have the opportunity to express their views and learn to respect the views of others. They will discuss topics such as inclusion and acceptance, breaking down barriers and British Values. Pupils practise skills in making judgements and decisions and in being able to resist peer pressure around issues affecting their health and wellbeing. Pupils learn how people can maintain good relationships, for example by listening, supporting and caring. They will consider their feelings, the effect of their behaviour on other people and will be able to respect differences between people. They will learn the basic rules and skills to help them to keep healthy and be aware of the importance of good personal hygiene. They will learn about potential hazards and how to stay safe. Topics will cover online safety, online bullying, online friendships and image sharing. They discuss changes, both physical and emotional, that occur at puberty and how to deal with these in a positive way. They will also look at being a member of our community, thinking about how to help others and how to be a responsible citizen.

A range of Teaching and Learning approaches are used to deliver the curriculum, with an emphasis on active learning and group discussion. In addition, we encourage the children to take part in a range of tasks that promote active citizenship, e.g. charity fundraising, the planning of special school events, such as assemblies and fund-raising activities, or involvement with supporting other individuals or groups within the wider community.

Curriculum coverage of Relationships Education in other subjects has been mapped in a document to show opportunities in other subjects such as Science and Whole Class Reading. (Appendix 4)

Classes are organised in such a way that pupils are able, through discussion, to set agreed classroom rules of behaviour, and resolve any conflicts. We offer children the opportunity to hear visiting speakers, such as health workers, police and local clergy, who we invite into school to talk about their role in creating a positive and supportive local community.

We acknowledge that sensitive and potentially difficult issues will arise when teaching Relationships Education as pupils will naturally share information and ask questions. When spontaneous discussion arises, it will be guided in a way which reflects the school aims and curriculum content. As a first principle, we will answer questions relating to the taught planned curriculum for that age group to the whole class. We will answer questions relating to areas beyond the taught planned curriculum for that age group in a sensitive and age appropriate way only to the pupil or pupils who have asked the question. If a member of staff is uncertain about the answer to a question, or indeed whether they should answer it, they will seek guidance.

Information on who delivers Relationship Education

Relationship Education, PSHE and citizenship is taught to all children. The member of staff responsible for the class will deliver lessons. Some learning may also take place as part of school assemblies where this is linked with the school's values of Courage, Friendship, Equality, Respect and Thoughtfulness. We may sometimes invite external agencies to deliver specific lessons or activities e.g. NSPCC. Our teachers provide learning opportunities matched to the individual needs of children, this includes children with additional needs, as well as more able children and those who may be in the early stages of learning English as an additional language.

PSHE and citizenship is also delivered through various activities and whole-school events, e.g. the School Council representatives from Years 2-6 meet regularly to discuss school matters. We also offer residential visits in Key Stage 1 and 2, where there is a particular focus on developing pupils' self-esteem, as well as giving them opportunities to develop the skills of collaboration and leadership.

Teachers assess the children's work in PSHE by observing their level of participation in class discussion, or group presentations; as well as through analysis of work they have produced and personal reflections on their own learning. Analysis of children's work is gauged against the specific learning objectives set out in the PSHE curriculum. We have clear expectations of what the pupils will know, understand and be able to do at the end of each Key Stage.

The majority of resources are available to staff online at <https://schools.1decision.co.uk/>. This includes a series of videos for each topic to generate group discussion. *See Subject leader for login and password.

Inclusion

Cultural and Religious Groups

We intend our policy to be sensitive to the needs of different cultural and religious groups. We encourage parents/ carers to discuss any concerns with the Headteacher.

Pupils with Special Needs

We will ensure that all pupils receive age appropriate sex and relationship education, and we will offer provision appropriate to the particular needs of all our pupils, taking specialist advice where necessary.

Sexual Identity and Sexual Orientation

We aim to deal sensitively and honestly with issues of sexual orientation, answer appropriate question and offer support.

Right of Withdrawal of Pupils from Sex and Relationship Education

Some parents prefer to take responsibility for aspects of this element of education. Parents have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from part of sex education delivered as part of statutory RSE. This is taught in the summer term of Year Six. Before granting any such request we would invite parents in to discuss the request. Parents are encouraged to discuss their decisions with the Head Teacher at the earliest opportunity. Parents are welcome to review any resources the school uses.

Confidentiality and Safeguarding

It should be made clear to pupils that all adults in school cannot guarantee absolute confidentiality. This should be made clear when forming the class Ground Rules.

Monitoring and review

The quality of teaching and learning in PSHE is monitored and evaluated by the headteacher, subject leader and teaching staff, as part of the school's agreed cycle of lesson observation and scrutiny of pupil's work.

Celebrating uniqueness, aiming high, learning together

Diversity in the Curriculum

Pleasant Street Primary School pledges itself to be a place where uniqueness is celebrated and all individuals will find safety and respect for their families and their way of life. We are a family of many different cultures and beliefs which makes our school as unique, as the individuals that make it so special. Our differences are our strength and allows us all to grow together with an interest and love of our shared and different traditions.

At Pleasant Street our community is central to our learning. Our diverse cultures come together to develop our understanding of our city, country and the world. Happiness and harmony are focal to our shared learning. We recognise the strengths of others and draw on this to support and inspire our own learning. Equally, we are always eager to motivate and guide others.

As part of our curriculum, we hold a 'Diversity Day' every half-term, which gives us opportunity to reflect on our uniqueness whilst celebrating our differences.

The day involves each class working with a different text around a theme based on diversity.

Age appropriate texts and the accompanying activities look at how children think and act towards others and themselves and gives them the opportunity to discuss the impact of actions and choices.

The day also includes opportunities for children to debate their opinions through a question of their own design, within a Philosophy for Children session. The day will end with a 'Show and Tell' assembly with pupils sharing their understanding and experiences of the activities undertaken.

Our curriculum and assemblies reinforce the skills and characteristics that we instil into our children and adults to ensure they do not allow obstacles to prevent their ambitions to achieve optimum success in their chosen path.

Appendix 4: Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education coverage across the curriculum.

The lead teacher will need to work closely with colleagues in related curriculum areas to ensure Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education and Health Education programmes complement, and do not duplicate, content covered in national curriculum subjects such as citizenship, science, computing and PE. It is important to check prior knowledge and build this into the planning process to ensure a smooth transition between primary and secondary. Further information on links to national curriculum subjects can be found on page 39 (SRE Document, DfE). This document seeks to plot coverage across the curriculum.
